There is so much to learn about this place that we call home, so much that we take for granted, so much that we simply pass by on a daily basis without even a momentary thought of “what is that place all about”, or “where did that come from and what’s inside of there?”. It’s about discovering the people, places and things that we want to know more about, and finding out what the story is behind it all. That’s the vision of Brad Hahn. On a daily basis, Brad is sharing his knowledge about Buffalo, it’s history, people and buildings.

Visitors, residents and students of all ages are invited to experience Buffalo’s unique architectural and historical legacy up-close with the expert volunteers of Explore Buffalo, dedicated to providing the city’s friendliest, most comprehensive, best informed tours.

Please join us as Brad Hahn, Executive Director of Explore Buffalo, shares information on the city we call home and what Explore Buffalo is all about.
