This is an exciting time for NYS education professionals, as we are the first state in the nation to include mental health instruction in the K-12 curriculum. Join with your colleagues in the education community to:

- gain a better understanding of the mental health education law, including instructional requirements and recommendations for implementation.
- share ideas and resources for mental health education and school wide initiatives to promote a culture/climate of wellness.
- end the day with a plan of action specific to your role in your district.

Who should attend? Anyone who might have a role in mental health education or promoting mental health and wellness. District teams are encouraged to attend to support collaboration and existing efforts.
